DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 5-9 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the applicant has shown unexpected and superior results for the claimed combination of the dioxazine of formula (I) and the pigment dispersant of formula (II) in a color filter as recited in the pending claims. Specifically, the applicant has shown in the Rule 1.132 declaration filed 05/17/2011 that the combination as now recited in pending claim 1 results in improved relative contrast ratio. Specifically, the combination of compounds recited in pending claim 1, as exemplified in Inventive sample C in the declaration, results in a relative contrast ratio of 100% as opposed to a color filter as exemplified in Grandidier (that is one comprising PV 23 without a pigment dispersant) with a relative contrast ratio of 1.3%. The applicant has amended pending claim 1 to recite only combinations with formulas as exemplified in Inventive sample C and therefore the applicant's claims are shown to possess unexpectedly superior results in color filters. While Dietz teaches the pigment-pigment dispersant combination recited by the applicant and teaches that it may be dispersed into polymers and plastics, Dietz is silent regarding the effects on contrast ratio of the pigment-pigment dispersant combination or the use of said combination in color filters. Contrast ratios are important properties in color filters and therefore because Dietz neither teaches the use of the combination in color filters nor teaches any benefits to contrast ratio obtained by said combination, one of ordinary skill in the art would not have been able to predict the unexpected and superior results achieved by the applicant by employing the combination of compounds recited in pending claim 1 in a color filter.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
